

"Often, if not always, people find themselves in work situations that allow them to find meaning and engagement, if they are willing to look for it."
Barry Schwartz, author of Why We Work (2015)

You're Invited!

SEEDS "You Choose" awards presents

Why We Work Workshop

Monday, February 26
10 am - 1 pm

Shalala Student Center Activities Room N/S

This interactive workshop will explore the social identities we bring to our work, the reasons why we work, and the incentives for the work that we do.

This workshop is FREE, open to the university community, and includes lunch

REGISTRATION BEGINS
Monday, December 18, 2017

Sponsored by: SEEDS | The Office of Institutional Culture | Women's Commission 2017-2018
For more information about Why We Work, email womenscommission@miami.edu.

For information about SEEDS, please contact SEEDS Program Manager, Marisol Capellan at mcapellan@miami.edu.